feet of gutter over the last decade — longer than a gutter stretching from LA to NY and back three times, then continuing to San Francisco before heading back to LA.

The patented design keeps debris out of gutters while allowing water to drain freely. All it takes is a normal breeze to lift debris away.*

WATER FLOW

“How can water enter the gutter? There are not enough holes and they're too small.”

Extensive research and development led to our exclusive Aluma-Perf™ technology. The product has 489 perforations every 20 inches. This drains water at the same rate as a 2" x 3" downspout. Extensive testing proves that Leaf Relief products can drain up to 29.7 inches of rainwater per hour; the highest amount of rainfall ever recorded was approximately 12 inches of water in an hour in Holt, Missouri, in 1947.

ICE AND SNOW

“What happens during winter?”

Leaf Relief products prevent snow from accumulating in gutters. Without Leaf Relief, the weight of the snow can deform your gutters.

“Will there be ice damming on Leaf Relief's surface?”

Never! Water drains directly into the downspout because there are no leaves or debris to stop it. With Aluma-Perf™, Leaf Relief products improve gutter system efficiency year-round.

DEBRIS

“Will leaves and small debris stay on the surface?”

The patented design of Leaf Relief allows water to flow freely while leaves are lifted away from gutters with the help of a normal breeze. See the Leaf Relief “No Clog, No Overflow” warranty for complete details.

Leaf Relief products do not cause ice dams. If icicles form on roof edge, check the attic for proper ventilation and thermal insulation.
